		Expected outcome	The Bachelor of Education (B.Ed) is an undergraduate degree designed to prepare students for careers in teaching and education. The program combines theoretical knowledge with practical experience, covering subjects such as child development, curriculum planning, classroom management, and educational psychology. Upon completion of a B.Ed program, graduates will possess the skills and knowledge necessary to create inclusive, engaging, and effective learning environments. They will be prepared for careers as teachers, educational consultants, and administrators in various educational settings, such as public, private, and international schools. B.Ed graduates may also choose to pursue further education, such as a Master of Education (M.Ed) or specialized certifications, to enhance their expertise and career opportunities.
