Dated- 18th May 2019

Scientific enquiry of idealism and realism has to reach a dynamic balance. The motive to find a fresh equipoise should address the requirement of society, groups and also the individual. Researchers who contribute in different domains of knowledge and research traditions should show the seed of hope for dynamic conversation and collaboration with policy makers and practitioners, with the intent of strengthening research as well as practice through applying available expertise for real world scenario.

India as a nation with diversity and population incorporates different cultures, religions, languages, caste, communities and social groups. It is not only a challenge for social scientists to ascertain application of findings at large, but it also provides big opportunity to utilize their capacity of investigation for wellbeing of humanity. Chhattisgarh state has all the possibilities for the development of Psychological investigation on real problems. There is a dearth of social of society and very less or no uses of the findings in actual conditions. Other relevant issues such as lack of awareness in the youth of this state towards careerbuilding in various fields, lack of self-assertiveness to realize successful participation in competition at large scale, diffidence to go out of their native place should be discussed and needed to resolve. Therefore, sensitization about accountability towards humanity is much needed in servers of Psychology. It can only be ensured through active participation in realistic studies and a positive mind set toward implication of results as much as possible.

Psychological Forum Chhattisgarh was established with the aims to counter the above said problems and many more issues related to human being. It is our initial endeavor to share the views through organizing annual meet and conference. As we can make our work plan and may curve the attention of researchers, NGOs, policy makers and educators towards actual problems of future solders of Chhattisgarh which is a really less studied part of India. Hopefully, esteemed scholars serving for wellbeing of humanity shall make this journey wider and global through their valuable presence and contribution of ideas.
