Organization of Lecture Series and Special Seminar

on

Analysis of Tibet-India-China Relations

Pandit Sundarlal Sharma University, Chhattisgarh organized a special lecture series and seminar at the administrative building of the university. The program was held from 10:30 am to 1:00 pm with the aim to discuss contemporary global and regional issues and get inspiration from subject experts.

The program started at 10:30 am with lamp lighting, welcome and introduction of guests. This session added to the grandeur of the event and introduced the topic to all approximately 67 attendees. University officials and teachers marked their presence on the occasion. Dr. Shobhit Bajpai, Director (CIQA), Pandit Sundarlal Sharma University, presented the objective and significance of the lecture series. In his opening remarks, he highlighted the impact of the lecture series from the academic point of view and outlined the role of the university. Thereafter, Honorable Vice Chancellor, Prof. Bansh Gopal Singh shared his views on the current scenario and future outlook. He motivated the students and teachers by highlighting the contribution of the University in the field of higher education and research.

The highlight of the programme was the in-depth discussion by the Chief Guest, Mrs. Tenzin Choejin, Member of Parliament, Central Tibetan Administration on the topic "Analysis of Tibet-India-China Relations". Her lecture provided deep insights on regional and international issues. She analysed Tibet's relations with India and China while highlighting its historical, cultural and political perspective. Her address was not only informative but also proved to be inspiring for the students and teachers.

At the conclusion of the programme, Mr. Praveen Toppo, Assistant Professor, Pandit Sundarlal Sharma University, presented a formal vote of thanks. He thanked all the guests, teachers and students and appreciated the organizers for organizing the programme successfully.

This lecture series and seminar provided a unique opportunity to the teachers and students to develop an understanding on current global issues. The programme was not only important from the academic point of view but also a powerful medium for in-depth discussions and analysis on topical topics. Such programmes should be organised in future also so that the academic and social contribution of the university can be further strengthened.
